The Odell Centre Day Charges

The fee for The Odell Centre is £50 for a full day and £25 for half a day. This includes a two course lunch.

The fee is payable and charged for every session made available to the Member, regardless of whether the Member attends or not. No fees will be due on the days that the Odell does not offer a session (i.e. Bank Holidays etc).

The fees are charged at an average monthly rate by calculating the number of sessions made available in each financial year, this varies each year due to variations in holidays. This figure is divided into 12 equal amounts and charged on the first day of every calendar month. The financial year runs from 1st April to 31st March.

Regular monthly payment for sessions can be made by monthly standing order on the first day of each month. The necessary information, references etc., must be obtained from The Odell Centre.
